Commissioner’s Note
By Ted Nickel, Commissioner of Insurance

In Wisconsin, we continue to work to make the Office of the Commissioner of Insurance (OCI) more efficient, and deliver better services to consumers and the industry. For example, we recently rolled out a new version of our back-office software, which will lead to a leaner, more efficient government. The move to this new software solution, State Based Systems (SBS) 2016, gives users access to additional industry tools and services with an enhanced interface.

We also launched our Web site redesign to enhance your interactions with OCI and ultimately make the services you depend on more accessible and user-friendly. I am pleased to report great results from these continuing efforts to further efficiencies such as shaving over seven days off the response time through our consumer complaint portal.

As Wisconsin’s Commissioner of Insurance, it is a great honor to be President of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) and I am pleased to say we have had an eventful first half of the year. At NAIC, we are focused on innovation and technology in the insurance marketplace and we continue to work toward the Insurance Data Security Model Law. We are focusing on the future of long-term care insurance, both in analysing innovative products being developed to promote financial security and dealing with legacy books of existing long-term care products. Also, we continue to focus on retirement security and the role insurers play in providing income streams to supplement existing savings. In regards to our engagement with Congress, we continue to assist with the congressional reauthorization of the National Flood Insurance Program and also providing advice on congressional efforts to change federal health insurance law.

Covered Agreement
On February 16, 2017, I testified before Congress as part of my NAIC duties. The issue related to a “Covered Agreement.” The Dodd-Frank Act, which created new regulations on the financial sector including insurance, allowed negotiation of international agreements in cases where state rules differ from rules of other countries. The covered agreement process allows the negotiated agreement to supersede state insurance rules in an effort to promote uniformity between U.S. and international jurisdictions. The primary focus of the agreement is to eliminate reinsurance collateral in Europe, to establish a uniform and global capital standard used to assess the financial strength of insurance groups, and place any group supervisory authority in the home jurisdiction of the ultimate parent company.

The proposed covered agreement in this case is between U.S. and EU and establishes capital standards for U.S. companies in Europe and European insurers in the U.S. Overall, it is an effort to harmonize international laws. Much of the European presence in the U.S. comes in the form of reinsurance of U.S. companies. While reinsurance is largely invisible to consumers, it is vital to insurers to have access to protection against very large losses. Regulators need assurance that reinsurance purchased by U.S. companies can pay their claims to U.S. companies. In order to do so, the reinsurer needs to have sufficient resources. As you may guess, it can be difficult to enforce judgments and collect money owed from a party located... in another country over which you have no regulatory authority. To combat this, states have adopted NAIC reinsurance collateral standards that ensure regulators can compel insurers to pay their claims.

At this time, the agreement is with the U.S. Department of Treasury for final enactment. We are hopeful the process will eventually lead to changes that will ensure Wisconsin consumers are protected. Specifically, consumers have assurance that, when they buy insurance, the insurance company will have the financial resources to pay the claim.

Thank you for taking the time to read this issue of Wisconsin Insurance News. I wish you an enjoyable summer.

Administrative Actions Taken by OCI

In many of the proceedings listed below, the Respondent denied the allegations but consented to the actions. Detailed information regarding the proceedings is available from the OCI Legal Unit. Copies of administrative actions started in the year 1964 can be viewed and printed from OCI’s Web site at ociaccess.oci.wi.gov/OrderInfo/OrdInfo.oci. The following are actions for January 2017 through March 2017.

Actions against agents:

Matthew C. Anderson

OCI Transitions to New Version of SBS

As you may know, the Office of the Commissioner of Insurance (OCI) implemented the National Association of Insurance Commissioners’ State Based Systems in January of 2016, resulting in significant changes in our agent licensing process. OCI has completed a successful transition to the new release of SBS. SBS references the release as SBS 2016. The new system offers agents and companies an improved customer interface, making it easier to view and find agent and company information, as well as continuing education course details. Visit oci.wi.gov to learn more.

OCI Moving to E-mail Notifications

At every turn, OCI is looking for ways to improve our communication. This is why we encourage all companies, agents, and providers to provide and maintain e-mail contact information with our office. We suggest providing e-mail accounts that do not change and are monitored regularly as we intend to send important notices and updates on a regular basis. In the near future, OCI will move away from traditional mailing of license and provider renewal notices as we look to provide a more efficient cost-effective government. Agents can update their contact information at www.nipr.com. Companies can update e-mail contact information at ocifinancial@wisconsin.gov.

Wisconsin Moves to National Producer Number

After careful consideration, OCI made the decision to replace the Wisconsin license number with the National Producer Number (NPN). Every Wisconsin agent already has an NPN. If you do not know your NPN, you may look it up at www.nipr.com. Use your NPN to renew your license, look up continuing education credits, and register for education courses.

Helpful Tips for Completing Agent Licensing Application

Applying for an insurance license can be a daunting task. To help make it easier for applicants, OCI’s agent licensing section has developed a new “how to apply” tips and tricks. OCI encourages companies, agencies, and providers to share this document with new applicants. The new guidance document is available at oci.wi.gov/Documents/AgentsAgencies/TipsAgentApplication.pdf.

Visit the OCI Web Site and Subscribe to OCI E-mail Notifications

OCI’s Web site (oci.wi.gov) has information to answer most of your insurance questions. You are encouraged to check the site first when looking for information. The “Agents/Agencies” and “Companies” sections have answers to most questions asked by agents and company representatives. Other important locations include the “Regulation” section and “Press Releases” page.

Sign up to receive an e-mail notification whenever OCI issues new bulletins to insurers, press releases, public meeting notices, and future issues of the Wisconsin Insurance News at oci.wi.gov/Pages/AboutOCI/ListServe.aspx.
OCI Moves Forward with Social Media

Last August OCI strengthened its commitment to social media by unveiling a redesigned Web site and creating a Twitter account, advancing the agency’s mission to lead the way in informing and protecting the public and responding to its insurance needs.

The Web site includes a number of new features including a more scalable design for consumers using mobile devices. The most important change is the usability of the Web site for the public including consumers, agents, and insurers. We invite you to visit oci.wi.gov.

OCI is using Twitter for updates on consumer publications, insurance bulletins, press releases, insurance news, and events with Commissioner Nickel and Deputy Commissioner Wieske.

We invite you to follow us on Twitter @wisconsinoci.

Long-Term Care Insurance Training Information

All insurance agents who sell or solicit long-term care (LTC) insurance in Wisconsin must complete an approved LTC training course once during each license renewal cycle. An agent’s license renewal cycle is the two-year period from the date of his/her license to the date the license will expire if not renewed. An agent’s license expires on the last day of his/her birth month.

Wisconsin insurance regulations require that prior to selling or soliciting LTC insurance an agent must complete eight hours of initial LTC training. Every two years thereafter, the agent must complete four hours of on-going training specific to LTC prior to the expiration of his/her biennial license renewal cycle.

Product-specific training or training that includes sales or marketing information and materials, other than that required by state or federal law, does not qualify as required LTC eight-hour initial or four-hour on-going training.

Approved LTC training includes information about state and federal regulations, qualified state LTC partnership policies, Wisconsin’s Medicaid program, LTC services and providers, inflation protection, insurance suitability standards, alternatives to the LTC insurance, and changes or innovations in the LTC marketplace.
