NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND GOING CONCERN

A. Accounting Practices

American Family Mutual Insurance Company, S.I. (the Company) prepares its statutory financial statements in accordance with accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Office of the Commissioner of Insurance of the State of Wisconsin (OCI). Prescribed statutory accounting practices include the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' (NAIC) "Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual", as well as state laws, regulations, and general administrative rules applicable to all insurance enterprises domiciled in a particular state. In addition, the OCI has a right to permit other specific practices that may deviate from prescribed practices. No permitted differences in statutory accounting practices between the OCI and the NAIC are used in the preparation of these statutory financial statements.

A reconciliation of the Company's net income and capital and surplus between NAIC SAP and practices prescribed and permitted by the State of Wisconsin is shown below:

B. Use of Estimates in the Preparation of the Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Statutory Accounting Principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities. It also requires disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

C. Accounting Policy

Premiums, reserves and expenses are accounted for in accordance with the NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedures manual, subject to deviations prescribed or permitted by the State of Wisconsin as described above.

In addition, the Company uses the following accounting policies:

- (1) Investments in short-term bonds rated "1" (highest quality) or "2" (high quality) by the Securities Valuation Office ("SVO") of the NAIC are reported in the financial statements at amortized cost. Bonds rated "3" (medium quality), "4" (low quality), "5" (lower quality), or "6" (lowest quality) by the SVO are reported at the lower of amortized cost or fair value. The interest method is used to amortize any purchase premium or discount, including estimates of future prepayments obtained from independent sources. Money market mutual funds are recorded at amortized cost, which approximates fair market value.
- (2) Investments in bonds rated "1" (highest quality) or "2" (high quality) by the Securities Valuation Office ("SVO") of the NAIC are reported in the financial statements at amortized cost. Bonds rated "3" (medium quality), "4" (low quality), "5" (lower quality), or "6" (lowest quality) by the SVO are reported at the lower of amortized cost or fair value. Investments in commercial mortgage-backed securities (CMBS) and non-agency residential mortgage-backed securities (RMBS) utilize a two-step process to obtain a valuation and rating in accordance with SSAP 43R, Loan Backed and Structured Securities. The first step derives a rating for valuation by comparing the current amortized cost to the modeled range of values assigned to the six NAIC designations for each security. This determines whether the securities are stated at the lower of amortized cost or fair value per the above rules. The second step utilizes the same modeled range of values to derive a rating for reporting using the current carrying value as determined in the first step.

Ratings and valuations for investments in asset-backed securities, loan-backed securities, and structured securities (other than Equipment Trust Certificates and Credit Tenant Leases) that are otherwise rated by a credit rating provider (CRP) are calculated using a two-step process. The first step derives a rating for valuation based on the CRP rating and the NAIC model valuation table. The second step utilizes the model valuation table to derive a rating for reporting using the current carrying value as determined in the first step. Securities whose initial rating is NAIC 1 or NAIC 6 in step one are not further modified by step two. The interest method is used to amortize any purchase premium or discount, including estimates of future prepayments obtained from independent sources.

- (3) Common stocks, other than investments in stocks of subsidiaries and affiliates, are stated at market.
- (4) The Company holds no preferred stocks.
- (5) Mortgage loans on real estate are generally carried at their aggregate unpaid principal balances.
- (6) Loan-backed securities are valued at amortized cost using the interest method, including anticipated prepayments at the date of purchase. These values are adjusted for updated prepayment information using the retrospective method.
- (7) Investments in subsidiary, controlled and affiliated companies are stated as follows:

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

American Family Insurance Mutual Holding Company (AFI MHC) owns 100% of American Family Holdings (Holdings). Holdings owns 100% of American Family Mutual Insurance Company, S.I. (AFMICSI.). The Company owns 100% of a holding company (AMFAM, Inc.) and 100% of two non-insurance companies American Family Brokerage, Incorporated (AFBI) and The AssureStart Insurance Agency, LLC (AIA). AFBI is valued using GAAP equity. AIA is valued using GAAP equity adjusted to a statutory basis of accounting. The holding company is valued using the sum of the following: holding company investments in insurance companies valued using statutory equity, investments in non-insurance companies valued using GAAP equity, and unamortized statutory goodwill.

- (8) Investments in joint ventures, partnerships and limited liability companies are stated at the underlying audited GAAP equity value. Investments in Low Income Housing Tax Credit Property investments are valued at amortized cost.
- (9) All derivatives are stated at fair value.
- (10) The Company anticipates investment income as a factor in the premium deficiency calculation, in accordance with SSAP No. 53, Property-Casualty Contracts – Premiums.
- (11) Unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses include an amount determined from individual case estimates and loss reports and an amount, based on past experience, for losses incurred but not reported. Such liabilities are necessarily based on assumptions and estimates and while management believes the amounts are adequate, the ultimate liability may be in excess of or less than the amount provided. The methods for making such estimates and for establishing the resulting liability, are continually reviewed and any adjustments are reflected in the period determined.
- (12) The Company has not modified its capitalization policy during the reporting period.
- (13) The Company does not record a pharmaceutical rebate receivable.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

- (7) Allowance for Credit Losses – Not applicable.
- (8) Mortgage Loans Derecognized as a Result of Foreclosure – Not applicable.
- (9) Commercial mortgage loans are placed on nonaccrual status after a default notice has been issued and the borrower has failed to cure the defect in a reasonable amount of time. Once a loan reaches nonaccrual status any accrued interest income is derecognized and future accrual of interest is suspended until the loan is made current. If the ultimate collectability of principal, either in whole or in part, is in doubt, any payment received on a nonaccrual loan shall first be applied to reduce principal to the extent necessary to eliminate such doubt.

D. Loan-Backed Securities

- (1) Prepayment assumptions for the vast majority of loan-backed securities are obtained from a leading, nationally recognized provider of market data and analytics. If the assumptions for a specific security are not available from the provider, the Company obtains the figures from broker dealer survey values.

(2) Not applicable

(3) Not applicable

- (4) Aggregate unrealized loss positions on loan-backed securities:

a. The aggregate amount of unrealized losses:

1. Less than 12 Months	$ (10,241,457)

G. Nature of Relationships that could affect operations (Refer to Schedule Y)

The Company is a member of a holding company structure as illustrated in Schedule Y.

11. DEBT

B. FHLB (Federal Home Loan Bank) Agreements

- (1) The Company is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago (FHLBC). Through its membership the Company executed a 30-year fixed rate advance of $500,000,000 from the FHLBC in 2013. The Company pays monthly interest to FHLBC at a fixed annual interest rate of 5.12%, and principal is due in a balloon payment at the end of the advance's 30 year term. The Company paid $6,400,000 in interest on the advance and recorded accrued interest of $2,204,444 as of March 31, 2018. The Company also executed a 1-year fixed rate advance of $130,000,000 from the FHLBC in 2017. The Company pays monthly interest to FHLBC at a fixed annual interest rate of 1.95%, and the principal is due in a balloon payment at the end of the advance's 1 year term. The Company paid $542,208 in interest on the advance and recorded accrued interest of $218,292 as of March 31, 2018. Both advances are fully collateralized with member stock and qualified securities with a book value of $743,203,718 and market value of $749,105,458 as of March 31, 2018.

The Company held shares of 126,000 of FHLBC stock with a carrying value of $12,600,000 as of March 31, 2018 and December 31, 2017. The Company has determined the actual maximum borrowing capacity as $630,000,000 as of March 31, 2018 and December 31, 2017, based on the value of FHLBC stock times 50 as the Company holds 50-1 stock. However, the Company's borrowing capacity net of outstanding advances was $0 as of March 31, 2018 and December 31, 2017. The shares in FHLBC stock are considered Class B shares and are recorded as common stock in the Statement of Financial Position.

14. CONTINGENCIES

A. Contingent Commitments

The Company enters into contractual agreements that require capital contributions to limited partnerships. These contributions are recorded on the financial statements as other invested assets. Capital is typically contributed to the partnerships over multiple years. At any time, The Company will have commitments to the partnerships that have not yet been funded. As of March 31, 2018 and December 31, 2017, the Company was obligated to contribute $659,311,437 and $638,399,016 in additional capital to various limited partnerships, respectively. These contributions will be callable under the commitments to the partnerships over the life of the partnerships.

- (1) All LIHTC commitments are recorded in aggregate write-in for liabilities, and there are no additional contingencies related to these commitments.

The Company's contingent commitment to its affiliate American Family Financial Services, Inc. was terminated as outlined under Note 10E.

D. Claims Related Extra Contractual Obligations and Bad Faith Losses Stemming from Lawsuits

G. All Other Contingencies

The Company is the defendant in ongoing worker classification class action litigation related to a segment of the Company's past and current exclusive agent population. In the event of a decision in favor of the plaintiffs, the Company estimates losses ranging between $0 and $75,000,000 would be incurred. In the Company's judgment, a loss is not probable and, as such, no accrual has been recorded as of March 31, 2018.

Lawsuits arise against the Company in the normal course of business. Contingent liabilities arising from litigation, income taxes, and other matters are not considered material in relation to the financial position of the Company.

16. INFORMATION ABOUT FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS WITH OFF-BALANCE SHEET RISK AND FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS WITH CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT RISK

(1) Interest Rate Swaps

As of March 31, 2018, the Company only owns interest rate swap agreements that were transacted and cleared through the central clearinghouse at the Chicago Mercantile Exchange (CME), where the CME serves as the counterparty for both parties to the swap contract. These 8 contracts are carried at a net liability position on the balance sheet, with total notional value of $1,255,000,000 and net carry value of ($10,128,831). The above carrying values are reported gross of offsetting collateral balances.

As of December 31, 2017, the Company owned 9 interest rate swap agreements that were transacted and cleared through the central clearinghouse at the Chicago Mercantile Exchange (CME), where the CME serves as the counterparty for both parties to the swap contract. These contracts are carried at a net liability position on the balance sheet, with total notional value of $1,255,000,000 and net carry value of ($2,373,537). The above carrying value is reported gross of offsetting collateral balances.

The table below summarizes the face amount of the Company's financial instruments with off-balance-sheet risk.

d. Total	$ _____ 0	$ _____ 0	$ 1,255,000,000	$ 1,255,000,000

(2) The credit risk, market risk and cash requirements of the Company's derivative instruments are discussed in Note 8, Part A of the 2016 annual statement. The accounting policies for the Company's derivative instruments are disclosed in Note 1, Part C and Note 8, Part C of the 2016 annual statement.

(3) The Company has no credit exposure at March 31, 2018 and December 31, 2017 and holds no collateral against this exposure. Credit exposure represents the Company's potential loss if all counterparties concurrently fail to perform under the contractual terms of the contracts and all collateral, if any, becomes worthless. This exposure is measured by the statement value of derivative contracts with a positive statement value at the reporting date reduced by the effect, if any, of legally enforceable master netting agreements.

The Company records collateral receivable or payable, when applicable, on the collateral call (trade) date. Typically collateral trades lag the valuation date of the derivative contracts by one day. As a result the net credit exposure shown on Schedule DB generally will not take into account any collateral received or posted as a result of valuation changes from the last day of the reporting period. Collateral levels are monitored daily to ensure proper collateral is received in or transferred out per CSA guidelines.

Derivative valuations found on Schedule DB and elsewhere in this Statement are clean, meaning the values exclude interest receivable (payable). Interest receivable (payable) is accounted for as a separate asset (liability) on page 2 (page 3) of the Statement and does not factor into the reported derivative valuations. From an investment management perspective, dirty valuations that include accrued interest receivable (payable) are utilized to determine appropriate collateral calls for a given day. This may lead to a divergence between net credit exposures shown on Schedule DB with actual collateral required per CSA guidelines. When interest receivable or payable is considered, essentially creating a dirty valuation, collateral guidelines are in compliance with prescribed CSA levels in order to mitigate credit risk to an appropriate level.

(4) The Company's policy for requiring collateral is discussed in Note 8, Part A. In general, cash collateral pledged is in the custody of the party receiving the collateral while securities pledged remain in the custody of the party making the pledge. However, securities can be accessed by the company receiving the pledge at any time, subject to replacement. All swap contracts are subject to enforceable master netting agreements. These agreements permit either party to net payments due for transactions covered by the agreements, and the Company nets derivative asset and derivative liability positions with the same counterparty to arrive at a single derivative asset or liability balance per counterparty in accordance with a valid right to offset. Cash collateral payable (receivable) is netted with derivative assets (liabilities) and the net amount is recorded in the Statements of Financial Positions where applicable. Under the provisions of the agreements, collateral is either pledged or obtained when certain predetermined exposure limits are exceeded. At March 31, 2018, the Company has no outstanding interest rate swap agreements with over-the-counter (OTC) counterparties, and thus has no collateral exchanged with such counterparties. In relation to centrally cleared swaps as of March 31, 2018, the Company pledged initial margin of $26,000 in cash as well as securities with a book value of $5,555,009 and market value of $5,555,009 to the CME. In addition, the Company pledged $8,175,591 in cash as variation margin to the CME. In relation to centrally cleared swaps as of December 31, 2017, the Company pledged initial margin of $0 in cash as well as securities with a book value and market value of $6,449,709 to the CME. In addition, the CME pledged $138,373 in cash as variation margin to the Company.

- (3) There were no material transfers into or out of level 3 during the first three months of 2018.

- (4) The Financial assets and financial liabilities recorded on the Balance Sheet at fair value are categorized based on the reliability of inputs to the valuation techniques as follows:

Level 1 Financial assets and financial liabilities whose values are based on unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in an active market that the Company can access.

Level 2 Financial assets and financial liabilities whose values are based on the following:
Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
Quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in non-active markets; or Valuation models, whose inputs are observable, directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Level 3 Financial assets and financial liabilities whose values are based on prices or valuation techniques that require inputs that are both unobservable and significant to the overall fair value measurement. These inputs may reflect the Company's estimates of the assumptions that market participants would use in valuing the financial assets and financial liabilities.

The availability of observable inputs varies by instrument. In situations where fair value is based on internally developed pricing models or inputs that are unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. In many instances, inputs used to measure fair value fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In those instances, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorized is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

The fair value guidance establishes a hierarchy for inputs used in determining fair value that maximize the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that observable inputs be used when available.

Fair value is a market-based measure considered from the perspective of a market participant who owns an asset or owes a liability. Accordingly, when market observable data is not readily available, the Company's own assumptions are set to reflect those that market participants would be presumed to use in pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. The Company uses prices and inputs that are current as of the measurement date, including during periods of market disruption. In periods of market disruption, the ability to observe prices and inputs may be reduced for many instruments. This condition could cause an instrument to be reclassified from Level 1 to Level 2 or from Level 2 to Level 3.

When available, the Company uses the market approach to estimate the fair value of its financial instruments, which is based on quoted prices in active markets that are readily and regularly available. Generally, these are the most liquid of the Company's holdings and valuation of these securities does not involve management judgment. Matrix pricing and other similar techniques are other examples of the market approach.

When quoted prices in active markets are not available, the Company uses the income approach, or a combination of the market and income approaches, to estimate the fair value of its financial instruments. The income approach involves using discounted cash flow and other standard valuation methodologies. The inputs in applying these market standard valuation methodologies include, but are not limited to interest rates, benchmark yields, bid/ask spreads, dealer quotes, liquidity, term to maturity, estimated future cash flows, credit risk and default projections, collateral performance, deal and tranche attributes, and general market data.

The following valuation techniques and inputs were used to estimate the fair value of each class of significant financial instruments:

Level 1 Measurements

Common Stocks: Comprised of actively traded, exchange listed U.S. and international equity securities. Valuation is based on unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets in active markets that the Company can access.

Cash Equivalents: Comprised of actively traded money market funds that have daily quoted net asset values for identical assets that the Company can access.

Level 2 Measurements

Bonds:

The majority of the Company's fixed income securities are carried at amortized cost. Those carried at fair value are valued using the market and income approaches by leading, nationally recognized providers of market data and analytics. When available, recent trades of identical or similar assets are used to price these securities. However because many fixed income securities do not actively trade on a daily basis, pricing models are often used to determine security prices. The pricing models discount future cash flows at estimated market interest rates. These rates are derived by calculating the appropriate spreads over comparable U.S. Treasury securities based on credit quality, industry, and structure of the asset. Observable inputs used by the models include benchmark yields, bid/ask spreads, dealer quotes, liquidity, term to maturity, credit risk and default projections, collateral performance, deal and tranche attributes, and general market data. Inputs may vary depending on type of security. Pricing for specific security types is as follows:

Municipals: Valued based on inputs including quoted prices for identical or similar assets in markets that are not active, benchmark yield curves, bid/ask spreads, and credit quality.

Corporates: Valued based on inputs including quoted prices for identical or similar assets in markets that are not active, benchmark yield curves, bid/ask spreads, and credit quality.

Common Stocks: Comprised of the non-actively traded investment in Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLB) stock. While not actively traded, the valuation for this investment is perpetually quoted at $100 by the FHLB.

Cash Equivalents: Comprised of actively traded money market funds that have daily quoted net asset values for identical assets that the Company can access.

Derivative Instruments: Over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives, including interest rate swaps, are valued using models that rely on inputs such as interest rate yield curves that are observable for substantially the full term of the contract. These models discount cash flows at each coupon date and the valuation of interest rate swaps is the difference between the values of the discounted cash flows of the fixed and floating legs of the swap. Fair value is the estimated amount that the Company would receive (pay) to terminate the derivative contracts at the reporting date. Derivative assets (liabilities) are reported gross of collateral payable (receivable) for purposes of fair value disclosures in Note 20.

(5) Derivative Fair Values – All information related to derivatives measured and reported at fair value is presented above.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

C. Valuation, Methods, and Assumptions

- (1) The following summarizes the fair value of the Company's financial assets and liabilities as of March 31, 2018:

Type of Financial Instrument	Aggregate Fair Value	Admitted Assets	(Level 1)	(Level 2)	(Level 3)	Not Practicable (Carrying Value)
Bonds	$ 8,498,662,602	$ 8,536,479,844	$ 677,210,645	$ 7,666,007,030	$ 155,444,927	$ -

Cash Equivalents	228,230,857	228,231,304	228,230,857	-	-	-
Short-term Investments	181,213,544	181,358,174	99,181,199	82,032,345	-	-
Mortgage loans	65,451,682	66,043,576	-	65,451,682	-	-
Other Invested Assets	1,126,839,533	1,123,948,973	-	-	1,126,839,533	-
Derivative Liabilities	(10,128,831)	(10,128,831)	-	(10,128,831)	-	-

- (2) The following valuation methods and assumptions were used to measure the fair values of each type of financial asset and financial liability:

Bonds: The fair value of Level 1 bonds, consisting of U.S. Treasury Notes, is determined using unadjusted quoted prices in an active market. Valuation methods and assumptions for the majority of Level 2 bonds are discussed in Note 20A(4). A small segment of Level 2 and all Level 3 bonds are valued internally using matrix pricing, broker quotes, discounted cash flow models, and benchmark and spread analysis, or externally using a pricing vendor that specializes in pricing esoteric securities.

Common Stocks: Valuation methods and assumptions are discussed in Note 20A(4).

Cash Equivalents: Comprised of primarily actively traded Level 1 money market funds that have daily quoted net asset values for identical assets that the Company can access.

Short-term Investments: The fair value of Level 1 U.S. Treasury Notes is determined using unadjusted quoted prices in an active market. Valuation methods and assumptions for Level 2 short-term bonds are the same as the methods and assumptions used to value long-term bonds as discussed in Note 20A(4).

Mortgage Loans: The fair value of mortgage loans on real estate is estimated by discounting future cash flows using the current rate at which similar loans with comparable maturities would be made to borrowers with similar credit ratings.

Derivatives: Valuation methods and assumptions are discussed in Note 20A(4).

Other Invested assets: Comprised of limited partnership interests in investment funds. Valued using capital account valuations as reported by the various limited partnerships, which approximate fair value.

21. OTHER ITEMS

F. Subprime-Mortgage-Related Risk Exposure

- (1) Subprime Mortgage Exposures

The Company defines our exposure to subprime mortgage related risk as any mortgage-backed security that contains underlying mortgages designated as subprime. We reviewed all our residential mortgage-backed pools and collateralized mortgage obligations for any such risk. Since our direct exposure through investments in subprime mortgage related risk is zero and our direct exposure through "other" investments is immaterial, we have not had the need to mitigate that risk exposure.

25. CHANGE IN INCURRED LOSSES AND LOSS ADJUSTMENT EXPENSES

The estimated cost of loss and loss adjustment expenses attributable to insured events of prior year's decreased by $27,702,418 during the first three months of 2018 as a result of re-estimation of unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses. This is 0.6% of unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses of $4,318,250,430 as of December 31, 2017. Increases or decreases of this nature occur as the result of claim settlements during the current year, and as additional information is received regarding individual claims, causing changes from the original estimates of individual claims. Recent loss development trends are also taken into account in evaluating the overall adequacy of unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses.
