

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Below are brief answers to frequently asked questions about the proposed mutual insurance holding company (also referred to as a “mutual holding company” or “MHC”) conversion (the “MHC Conversion”) of SECURA Insurance, A Mutual Company (“SECURA” or the “Company”). You should carefully review the more detailed discussion about the proposed MHC Conversion that follows in the Policyholder Information Statement, which qualifies all of the information presented in these brief answers.

1. What is the change being proposed for SECURA?

The Board of Directors of SECURA is proposing that SECURA change its organizational structure from a mutual insurance company to a mutual holding company-owned stock insurance company. Under this structure, SECURA would convert to a stock insurer, to be re-named SECURA Insurance Company (“Converted SECURA”), and would become an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of the newly-organized mutual holding company. SECURA policyholders, who are currently the members of SECURA, would no longer be members of SECURA but would instead become members of the new mutual holding company, with comparable member rights. There would be no change in SECURA’s insurance policies (except that they would confer membership in the mutual holding company rather than SECURA), and those policies would remain obligations of Converted SECURA as a stock insurance company. The MHC Conversion would take place in accordance with the Mutual Holding Company Plan (the “Plan”) which has been approved by SECURA’s Board of Directors and which you and the other policyholders of SECURA are being asked to approve at the Special Meeting of Members (the “Special Meeting”), of which you are being notified in the attached Notice of Special Meeting of Members.

2. What is a mutual insurance holding company? Have other mutual insurance companies adopted this form of organization?

A mutual insurance holding company is a legal entity organized under state law to serve as the parent company (i.e., the controlling shareholder) of an insurance company that has been converted from a mutual company to a stock company. In the mid-1990s, laws enabling the mutual insurance holding company structure began to appear in various states as a means for a mutual insurance company to address certain disadvantages of the mutual insurance company organizational form by converting to a stock company, while still preserving policyholder ownership and control of the enterprise. Mutual insurance holding companies were first made available under Wisconsin law in 1997. More than half of the state insurance codes now include mutual holding company laws, and many insurance companies have chosen to restructure as mutual holding companies. 3. How will the proposed MHC Conversion benefit SECURA and its policyholders?

SECURA’s Board of Directors believes that the MHC Conversion of SECURA is desirable to enhance SECURA’s ability to grow and respond to future needs, challenges, and opportunities in a rapidly changing insurance industry, while preserving mutuality and the ability to operate with a focus on the long-term interests of policyholders.

Specifically, the Board of Directors believes the new mutual holding company structure will benefit SECURA and its policyholders by, among other things, (i) giving the Company the opportunity to pursue expansion through subsidiary companies while maintaining its mutuality, (ii) enhancing the Company's ability to acquire and grow ancillary or non-insurance businesses, (iii) enhancing the Company's ability to pursue mergers with and acquisitions of other mutual insurance companies, and (iv) giving the Company enhanced access to capital and other forms of financing. 4. Will the proposed MHC Conversion affect the terms of my insurance policy with SECURA?

No. All insurance policies issued by SECURA will continue as obligations of Converted SECURA as a stock insurance company after the MHC Conversion. Your rights under your existing insurance policy, including your coverage, claims payments, premiums, and policy benefits, will not be changed as a result of the MHC Conversion. See also the information presented under the heading "Member Rights" in the table found on page Error! Bookmark not defined. of the Policyholder Information Statement.

5. What are my current rights as a policyholder of SECURA, and how would the proposed MHC Conversion affect those rights?

As a policyholder of SECURA, you have two types of interest in SECURA: (i) contract rights arising from your insurance policy with SECURA and (ii) voting rights and rights in surplus arising from your status as a member of SECURA.

Your contract rights will not be affected in any way by the proposed MHC Conversion. Your insurance policy with SECURA will become a contractual obligation of Converted SECURA and there will be no changes to your insurance coverage, claims payments, premiums, or policy benefits as a result of the MHC Conversion.

On the effective date of the MHC Conversion (the "Effective Date"), you will cease being a member of SECURA and you will instead become a member of the new mutual holding company. You will be entitled to voting rights and rights to participate in distributions of surplus by the mutual holding company which are comparable to the rights that you now have in SECURA. As described in FAQ #6, as a result of the MHC Conversion, all persons who become policyholders of SECURA Supreme Insurance Company ("SECURA Supreme"), an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of SECURA, after the Effective Date (whether through the issuance of new or the renewal of existing policies) will become members of the new mutual holding company.

The addition of SECURA Supreme policyholders as members of the new mutual holding company will result in the dilution of the aggregate voting control held by SECURA's members. It is difficult to estimate the amount of the dilution policyholders of SECURA will experience, but as of the date hereof, policies in force of SECURA Supreme represented []% of the combined policies in force of SECURA and SECURA Supreme.

6. Will anyone other than current SECURA policyholders be members of the new mutual holding company?

Yes. All persons who become policyholders of SECURA Supreme after the Effective Date (whether through the issuance of new or the renewal of existing policies) will become members of the mutual holding company, along with the policyholders of SECURA. SECURA Supreme is a stock property and casualty insurance company established by SECURA as a second underwriting company. It is estimated that, if all current policyholders of SECURA Supreme were to become members of the new mutual holding company on the Effective Date, of the total number of members of the mutual holding company immediately after the MHC Conversion, approximately []% would be persons who were SECURA policyholders immediately before the MHC Conversion, and approximately []% (based on an assumed January 1, 2021, Effective Date) would be persons who were SECURA Supreme policyholders, and not SECURA policyholders, immediately before the MHC Conversion. The number of policyholders of SECURA Supreme relative to the number of policyholders of SECURA Insurance could go up or down after the Effective Date.

The Board of Directors will have the authority to grant member status to the policyholders of other stock insurance subsidiaries of the mutual holding company in the future.

In addition, if the mutual holding company were to merge with another mutual holding company in the future, the members of the merging company would become members of the SECURA mutual holding company.

7. How will the inclusion of policyholders of SECURA Supreme as members of the mutual holding company affect my voting rights?

After the MHC Conversion, you will have a smaller percentage of the total voting power in the new mutual holding company than you had in SECURA immediately prior to the MHC Conversion as a result of the inclusion of the SECURA Supreme policyholders as members of the mutual holding company. Please note that growth in SECURA's membership over time would also have a dilutive effect on voting power.

Your voting rights as a member of SECURA generally consist of the right to cast one vote on any matter which is subject to a vote of the members, including the right to vote for the election of directors, any proposed conversion of the Company from a mutual company to a stock company while simultaneously creating a mutual holding company as a parent, any proposed conversion of the Company to a stock company without simultaneously creating a mutual holding company as a parent (also known as "demutualization"), voluntary dissolution of the Company, or amendment of the articles of incorporation.

After the MHC Conversion, each member of the new mutual holding company will have substantially these same voting rights, except with respect to the dilution of voting control as discussed in FAQ #5. Each policyholder of Converted SECURA or SECURA Supreme will have the same mutual holding company member voting rights.

8. How will the inclusion of policyholders of SECURA Supreme as members of the mutual holding company affect my rights in surplus?

The inclusion of policyholders of SECURA Supreme as members of the mutual holding company will not have a material effect on your rights in surplus. See “THE MHC CONVERSION TRANSACTION—Effects of the MHC Conversion—Effect on Contract Rights and Voting Rights/Rights in Surplus of SECURA Members/Policyholders” on page Error! Bookmark not defined. of the Policyholder Information Statement.

9. Has SECURA’s Board of Directors approved the proposed MHC Conversion, and does it have a recommendation for policyholders on voting?

Yes. After careful consideration and thorough deliberation in a series of meetings over a lengthy period, the SECURA Board of Directors has approved the Plan and the transactions contemplated thereby. Accordingly, the SECURA Board of Directors recommends that policyholders vote FOR the Plan at the Special Meeting. 10. Did the Board consider any alternatives to the MHC Conversion?

Yes. The Board of Directors considered, but rejected, other structural alternatives to the proposed MHC Conversion, including demutualization of SECURA. The Board of Directors determined not to pursue any of these alternatives and has no plans to do so following the MHC Conversion. In addition, the proposed MHC Conversion does not involve any changes to the existing workforce, operations, or office locations of SECURA and its subsidiaries, and the Board of Directors has no plans to make any such changes after the MHC Conversion. See also “THE MHC CONVERSION TRANSACTION—Consideration of Alternatives” on page Error! Bookmark not defined. of the Policyholder Information Statement.

11. Will SECURA be regulated differently if the MHC Conversion is completed?

SECURA is currently regulated by the Office of the Commissioner of Insurance for the State of Wisconsin (the “Wisconsin Commissioner”). After the MHC Conversion, Converted SECURA will continue to be regulated by the Wisconsin Commissioner. In addition, the mutual holding company will be subject to the Wisconsin Commissioner’s oversight. Certain anticipated differences between the current regulation of SECURA and the future regulation of the mutual holding company are described under the heading “REGULATION” on page Error! Bookmark not defined. of the Policyholder Information Statement.

12. Does SECURA plan to issue stock in any entity following the proposed MHC Conversion?

No. SECURA does not have any plans to issue stock in any entity after the proposed MHC Conversion is completed. In any event, an initial sale of voting stock would require the prior approval of the Wisconsin Commissioner and the members of the new mutual holding company.

13. Will the proposed MHC Conversion result in any changes in the compensation of SECURA's directors or officers?

No. The proposed MHC Conversion will not result in any changes in the compensation of SECURA's directors and officers.

14. Will any SECURA director or officer receive any stock or stock options in connection with the MHC Conversion?

No. SECURA's directors and officers will not receive any stock or stock options in Converted SECURA or any other entity in connection with the MHC Conversion.

15. Are there any potential disadvantages or risks in adopting the proposed mutual holding company structure?

There are potential disadvantages and risks associated with the proposed MHC Conversion that are discussed in greater detail under the heading "THE MHC CONVERSION TRANSACTION—Effects of the MHC Conversion—*Special Considerations and Risk Factors" on page Error! Bookmark not defined. of the Policyholder Information Statement.

16. What approvals are required before SECURA can complete the proposed MHC Conversion?

The Plan must be approved by the Wisconsin Commissioner. Additionally, the Plan must be approved by the vote of two-thirds of the members present and voting in person or by proxy at the Special Meeting. See also "CONDITIONS TO CLOSING OF MHC CONVERSION" on page Error! Bookmark not defined. of the Policyholder Information Statement.

17. If I vote at the Special Meeting by proxy, will the proxies have authority to vote on any matter other than the approval of the MHC Conversion?

The proxies will have authority to vote only on those matters which are germane to the purpose of the Special Meeting as stated in the Notice of Special Meeting. For example, in addition to casting votes "For" and "Against" the approval of the Plan, the proxies would have authority to vote on a proposal to adjourn the Special Meeting and reconvene at a later date.

18. When will the proposed MHC Conversion be completed, if all conditions are satisfied?

Provided the Plan has been approved by the Wisconsin Commissioner and by the vote of two-thirds of the members present and voting in person or by proxy at the Special Meeting, it is expected that the MHC Conversion will be completed on January 1, 2021.

19. How can I vote on the Plan?
