Mandated Benefits in Health Insurance Policies

Health insurance policies sold in Wisconsin often include mandated benefits. These are benefits an insurer must include in certain types of health insurance policies. Most mandated benefits apply to health insurance sold to both groups and to individuals. However, mandated benefits for maternity coverage and mental health parity only apply to group insurance.

HMOs are regulated as insurance companies and are generally subject to the mandated benefits. HMOs organized as cooperative health plans are not subject to mandates for grandchildren, children with disabilities, diabetes, home health care, kidney disease, maternity coverage, or skilled nursing facilities.
