Health insurance policies sold in Wisconsin often include "mandated benefits." These are benefits an insurer must include in certain types of health insurance policies. Most mandated benefits apply to health insurance sold to both groups and to individuals. However, mandated benefits for maternity coverage and mental health parity only apply to group insurance.

HMOs are regulated as insurance companies and are generally subject to the mandated benefits. HMOs organized as cooperative health plans are not subject to mandates for grandchildren, handicapped children, diabetes, home health care, kidney disease, maternity coverage, or skilled nursing facility.

Professional Health Care Services

Chiropractors
Health insurance must cover services provided by a chiropractor if the policy would provide coverage for the same services performed by a physician or osteopath. The insurer may not require the insured to be referred to a chiropractor by a physician to receive benefits. [s. 632.87 (3), Wis. Stat.]

Dentists
Health insurance must provide coverage for diagnosis or treatment of a condition or complaint performed by a licensed dentist if the policy covers diagnosis and treatment of the condition if performed by any other health care provider. [s. 632.87 (4), Wis. Stat.]

Nonphysician Providers
Insurers may not refuse to pay for services by certain nonphysician providers if the service is covered by the policy and the professional is licensed to provide the service, unless the policy specifically excludes any coverage by that nonphysician provider. [s. 632.87 (1), Wis. Stat.]

Nurse Practitioners
Health insurance providing coverage for Papanicolaou (PAP) tests, pelvic examinations, and associated laboratory work if performed by a physician must also provide coverage for these services when performed by a nurse practitioner acting within the scope of his or her license. [s. 632.87 (5), Wis. Stat.]

Optometrists
Insurers may not exclude coverage for services provided by an optometrist if the contract covers the same service when it is provided by another health care provider. Insurers may exclude all vision care services and procedures from coverage. [s. 632.87 (2) and (2m), Wis. Stat.]

Covered Persons

Adopted Children
Health insurance providing coverage for dependent children must cover adopted children and children placed for adoption on the same terms and conditions as natural children. Policies may not exclude or limit coverage of a disease or physical condition of the child because the disease or condition existed before coverage under the policy began. [s. 632.896, Wis. Stat.]

Dependents
Health insurance providing dependent coverage of children must provide coverage to an adult child of the applicant or insured if the child is under the age of 26.

Coverage must also be provided to an adult child regardless of age if the child was under 27 years of age when he or she was called to federal active duty in the National Guard or in a reserve component of the U.S. armed forces while the child was attending, on a full-time basis, an institution of higher education. [s. 632.885, Wis. Stat.]
Grandchildren
Health insurance providing coverage for any child of the insured shall provide the same coverage for all children of that child until that child reaches the age of 18. [s. 632.895 (5m), Wis. Stat.]

Handicapped Children
Health insurance covering dependent children must provide an extension of coverage when a child reaches the age limit for a dependent child while the child continues to be both incapable of self-sustaining employment because of a mental retardation or physical handicap, and is chiefly dependent upon the insured person for support and maintenance. Insurers can require notice of continued dependence after a child reaches the maximum age under the policy. [s. 632.88, Wis. Stat.]

Newborn Infants
Health insurance must provide coverage from the moment of birth for a newborn child of the insured. The newborn shall receive the same coverage the policy provides for any children covered or eligible for coverage under the policy. Coverage for newborn children must include functional repair and restoration of congenital defects and birth abnormalities as an injury or sickness under the policy.

Policies may require notification of a child’s birth and payment of any required premiums be furnished to the insurer within 60 days after the date of birth. Insurers may refuse to continue coverage beyond the 60-day period if such notification is not received unless, within one year after the birth of the child, the insured makes all past due payments with interest at the rate of 5 1/2% per annum. [s. 632.895 (5), Wis. Stat.]

Student on Medical Leave
Health insurance providing coverage for a person as a dependent of the insured because the person is a full-time student shall continue to provide dependent coverage for the person if, due to a medically necessary leave of absence, he or she ceases to be a full-time student.

For Additional Information:

State and local government self-funded health plans are not generally subject to Wisconsin insurance law. However, various self-funded Wisconsin government health plans are subject to some of the mandated benefits. If you are covered by a self-funded state or local government plan, check with your employer or the plans administrator for additional information.

For information regarding mandated benefits in Medicare supplement insurance, refer to the Wisconsin Guide to Health Insurance for People with Medicare, available on OCI's website.

Also, please note the Affordable Care Act requires individual health insurance and small group insurance to include "essential health benefits" in their policies. Information on the federal law may be found at www.healthcare.gov.

If you have a specific complaint about your insurance, refer it first to the insurance company or agent involved. If you do not receive satisfactory answers, contact OCI.
